Amphitheater

- Staff are reviewing preliminary designs from Bond Architects for back-of-house (BOH) improvements to address the artists' needs. - Staff are reviewing a new restroom design from Bond Architects to be located near the main entrance on the hillside. It would be accessible from the hill or outside plaza. Bond provided a first opinion of probable cost to staff in early January.
- Synthetic turf was installed in the plaza outside the amphitheater's main entrance.

CFAC

- The aquatic feasibility study discussed at the October, 18 2023 PRACAC meeting, was presented to the PRA Committee of Council November 1, 2023. They requested an additional "smaller design footprint" scenario be added, and be brought back to the committee. That meeting is January 22, 2024.

Dimensions: 48" x 24" x 34"

Media: Bronze & Stainless Steel

Maintenance: Wash occasionally with soapy water

Price: $17,000

From: South Dakota

Descriptions: Our tom girl has to finish her violin practice before she can go out and play. Her loyal hound is being patient but he is protecting his ears against her musical efforts.

Additional Notes: Please pay attention to the height of these works. This work is currently in Manchester, MO.

The Coyote

"The Coyote" is a life-size bronze sculpture depicting a coyote standing in heightened awareness of his surroundings. Weber created the sculpture as part of a large diorama with the famous Lewis and Clark sculpture depicting their journey across the river as the coyote watches with full attention. Two casts of the coyote were made and the other is located at the Drury Plaza at Market and Broadway with the Lewis and Clark sculpture. Weber's work embodies human emotion and power with a spontaneity developed from a lifelong habit of sketching from life.

"The Coyote" is located near the community garden at Eberwein Park.

Dog Days

“Dog Days” is a fiberglass chair beautifully painted in acrylic to reflect the fun and carefree nature of dogs in the spirit of play within the Dog Park. The artist, Michelle Streiff, a volunteer with Stray Rescue of St. Louis, used her own beloved Jack Russell Terriers and the many wonderful shelter dogs as her inspiration for the piece.

“Dog Days” is located on the north side of the trail leading to the Eberwein Dog Park.
